Introduction

In the three Ohio counties – Columbiana, Mahoning and Trumbull - that make up the Youngstown-Warren Consolidated Statistical Area (CSA), there are ninety governmental units: cities, villages and townships. Many of them have adopted zoning and subdivision regulations, some require permits for all new construction, repairs or alterations, all require commercial or industrial building permits, and sometimes other business licenses are needed in addition to those required by the State of Ohio. They all have their unique methods and procedures. (Mercer County in Pennsylvania is also a part of the Youngstown-Warren-East Liverpool CSA, however, they are excluded here as their rules apply to the state of Pennsylvania instead of Ohio, which is the focus of this publication.)

The Economic Development Office of the Youngstown/Warren Regional Chamber has assembled basic information which was supplied by cooperating officials in all of the counties and their governmental subdivisions. This reference guide has been created to help businesses know what to expect and whom to contact for accurate information and assistance in each community.

An Overview Chart arranges the governmental units alphabetically according to county in which they are located and indicates type of regulation found in each. Following the chart is a section which provides more detailed information about contact offices/personnel for each community.

ABOUT ZONING

Where zoning is regulated, always make your first inquiries at the zoning office, because in most communities zoning permits and certificates of occupancy are required and the zoning officer must grant approval before those can be issued. The zoning officer will also give direction concerning other offices which need to be involved in the process of obtaining all the necessary permits. Many zoning offices also regulate home-based businesses or home occupations. Check with the zoning office for details

- Columbiana County has subdivision regulations which are administered by the Columbiana County Planning Commission throughout the county's jurisdiction which is the township areas only. Therefore, for zoning information in the townships, see pages 4 through 7, "Contact Offices".
- Mahoning and Trumbull Counties have subdivision regulations which are administered by the respective County Planning Commissions in the townships that do not have zoning regulations. The Mahoning County Planning Commission also has contracts with many other townships and some of the municipalities to administer the subdivision regulations, but the first point of contact is the local zoning officer who will determine what other regulations may apply.

ABOUT BUILDING PERMITS

- Columbiana County has no local building code, so residential building permits are only required in those communities which have local ordinances or resolutions. However, the building code of the State of Ohio applies in all areas and a Certificate of Plan Approval is required for all new commercial construction, renovation of an existing structure, or a change in use and occupancy.

- The Mahoning County Building Regulations Department enforces the Ohio Basic Building Code for new residential work larger than three family dwellings and commercial structures as well as alterations to existing structures for the unincorporated areas of the county, Canfield City, Craig Beach, Lowellville, New Middletown and Struthers. The department also administers the Mahoning County Residential Code for the same areas.
- The Trumbull County Building Inspection Department enforces the Ohio Basic Building Code for new residential work larger than three family dwellings and commercial structures as well as alterations to existing structures for the unincorporated areas of the county. In those same areas, the department also enforces the one and two family dwelling code of the Council of American Building Officials. (C.A.B.O.)

ABOUT OTHER BUSINESS LICENSES OR PERMITS

Any company or individual wishing to begin doing business in the State of Ohio should begin by first contacting the Ohio One-Stop Business Permit Center. (1-800-248-4040)

<http://development.ohio.gov/edd/1ststop/onestop/index.cfm> Here you will get detailed information on all the state-required licensing and taxes pertaining to your particular kind of business.

Local business licenses are generally permits for various activities which communities feel the need to regulate, such as bars, amusement devices, peddlers, junk dealers, trash haulers, theaters, soft drinks, taxis, and second-hand stores. Contact the zoning office of the municipality for details.

There are a number of additional licenses and permits required of people with businesses:

Health Permits

Check with your city or county health department to determine if your business requires a special health permit or inspection. Health departments are concerned with conditions that may affect health, sanitation, safety and food. Regulations vary from county to county. Pies, cakes and other bakery items must be licensed with the Ohio Department of Agriculture. For a home bakery license, call ODA, Division of Foods, Dairy and Drugs at (614) 866-6361. They will arrange for a health and sanitation inspection. If other state health permits are required, your local health department can direct you to appropriate state departments.

Vendor's License

A vendor's license is required of all businesses making retail sales of tangible property and certain rentals and repairs. The license permits and requires the collection of sales tax from customers and forwarding of the collected sales taxes to the state treasurer's office either monthly or every six months. Failure to file the proper forms even if no sales were made will result in a $50.00 fine.

The State of Ohio now requires many service businesses to collect and remit sales tax on the services that the businesses provide. Businesses required to obtain a service vendor's license are the following:

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| • Automatic data processing and computer services | • Building maintenance and janitorial services |
| • Employment services                             | • Landscaping services                         |
| • Information services (including 1-900) services | • Exterminating services                       |
| • Employment placement services                   | • Security services                            |

A vendor's license may be obtained from the auditor's office in the county in which the business is located. The current application fee is $25.00, with an annual renewal fee of $10.00. A temporary license is available for $5.00 and is valid for 20 days. It can be purchased from the auditor in the county where sales will be made. This license is designed for short-term trade shows, fairs, etc., conducted away from your home county. Businesses that travel extensively throughout Ohio may purchase a statewide vendor's license from the Ohio Department of Taxation for $100.00, with an annual renewal fee of $40.00.

Not every business needs a vendor's license. If your business is strictly wholesale or deals entirely in non-taxable items, there is no need to purchase a license. A common misconception is that it is necessary to have a vendor's license in order to purchase goods wholesale or to purchase items for your business without paying sales tax. A Blanket Certificate of Exemption-available from most office supply stores-given to the suppliers allows them to sell to you without charging sales tax. Likewise, you must have a Certificate of Exemption from any business you do not collect sales tax from. More specific information is available from your county auditor's office.

Registration of Business Name

Any Ohio business may register its business name with the Secretary of State. There are three categories of names: 1) trade, 2) fictitious; and corporate.

Trade Name A trade name is a "name used in business or trade to designate the business of the user and to which the user asserts a right to exclusive use." Ohio law permits any firm in the state to register with the Secretary of State the trade name under which it operates. A trade name registration fee is $20.00. The registration is effective for five years and may be renewed at the end of each term for a fee of $10.00.

Fictitious Name Any business name that is not registered as either a corporate name or trade name and that does not fully identify the owner(s) of the business must be registered as a fictitious name with the Ohio Secretary of State. The registration of a fictitious name does not in any way protect the use of that same name by another business. It merely provides a method for the state to identify the owner(s) of a business.

Corporate Name Any corporate name approved by the Secretary of State is protected from use by others in the same manner as a trade name, once approval is granted.

To register a name, contact the Office of the Secretary of State, 30 East Broad Street, 14th Floor, Columbus, OH 43266-0418 or telephone at (614) 466-3910. There is also a name availability line that you may call to see if a name is currently being used in the State of Ohio. The name availability line is (614) 466-0590. <http://www.sos.state.oh.us/>

Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA)

OSHA regulations exist for any business that has any employees beyond family members. Restrictions become more stringent and inspections are required once a business has 10 or more employees. Additional regulations may exist if your business requires the operation of certain equipment or machinery or handles hazardous chemicals.

The State of Ohio has a consultation service for small businesses relating to OSHA. For more information on safety requirements contact the OSHA for a free On-site Consultation Service at (800) 282-1425 or (614) 644-2631 or write P.O. Box 825, 2322 West 5th Avenue, Columbus, OH 43216-0825. Or you may contact the Federal Office of OSHA at 1-800-582-1708. <http://osha.gov/>
